

The map displays a network of roads and geographical features. Two specific locations are highlighted: 'The Puppet Theater' in the lower-left quadrant and 'Home' in the upper-right quadrant. Both locations are marked with solid black dots and surrounded by dashed circular outlines. A dashed black line traces a path from the theater to home, passing through several road intersections. A prominent, thicker grey line follows a similar trajectory, likely representing a major thoroughfare or a different mode of transport.
